DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 9, 11, 13, 21, 23, 25-26, 28 and 31-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fillion et al. (U.S. Pat. 5353498) in view of Nagarajan et al. (U. S. Pat. 6639321).

- Regarding claims 9 and 25, Fillion et al. disclose a semiconductor device comprising :

a substrate 10, wherein the substrate is selected from the group consisting of a ceramic chip carrier, an organic chip carrier (fig. 1a, column 5, lines 16-18);

a semiconductor device 14 electrically coupled to the substrate, wherein the semiconductor device is divided into a plurality of segments, wherein at least one segment of the plurality of segments is not congruent with respect to a remaining segment of the plurality of segments.

Fillion et al. fail to disclose the substrate comprises a coefficient of thermal expansion that is greater than a coefficient of thermal expansion of the semiconductor device.

Nagarajan et al. disclose a semiconductor device (cover fig.) comprising: a substrate 108 comprises a coefficient of thermal expansion that is greater than a coefficient of thermal expansion of the semiconductor device 202 (column 5, lines 19-23). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Fillion et al. to reduce mismatch of a coefficient of thermal expansion of the die with the substrate, as shown by Nagarajan et al.

- Regarding claims 11 and 28, Fillion et al. disclose a first segment and a second segment of the plurality of segments 14 are congruent with respect to each other (fig. 1a).
- Regarding claims 13 and 31, Fillion et al. disclose the plurality of segments are square segments (fig. 4d).
- Regarding claim 21, Fillion et al. disclose the substrate is symmetrically coupled to each segment of the semiconductor device (fig. 1a).
- Regarding claims 23 and 32, Fillion et al. disclose the semiconductor device is a semiconductor chip (fig. 1a, column 5, lines 23).
- Regarding claim 26, Fillion et al. disclose each segment of the semiconductor device is symmetrically coupled to the substrate (fig. 1a).

3. Claims 10 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fillion et al. (U.S. Pat. 5353498) in view of Nagarajan et al. (U. S. Pat. 6639321) and further in view of Saito et al. (U. S. Pat. 5479335).

Fillion et al. and Nagarajan et al. fail to disclose the length of each segment of the semiconductor device is greater than or equal to 5 millimeters.

Saito et al. disclose a device comprising: a chip size is from a few millimeters square to 20 millimeters square (column 14, lines 9-10). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Fillion et al. and Nagarajan et al. to reduce the chip size and improve the device's efficiency, as shown by Saito et al.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9 and 25 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

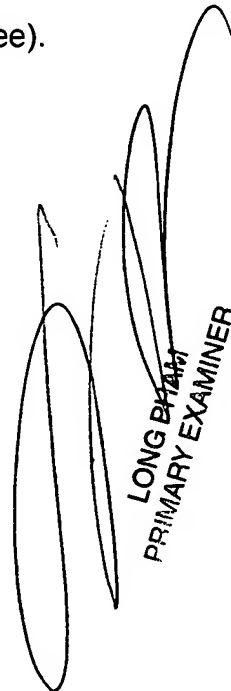

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
